Seems this layout has bugs in some firefox browsers, and not in others (of the same version, 1.0) - it might just be spontaneous, as it looks fine in my browser sometimes, and other times its broken. same thing happened for my friend. if you see problems please post them here along with your browser version, thanks for the help!

Well here it is, sort of. Nothing works yet except the layout. Don't worry, sections will begin popping up shortly, but until then uh.... have fun staring at the blank pages!

it has come to my attention that nobody really cares whats going on in my life, besides pepe, who i can just talk to via msn. so.. looks like my site will be going through an overhaul once more. expect a new layout and additional site-wide changes, i may still have a news section but it might be incorporated into a different part of my site or something.. i dont know yet. i just want this place to be alive and not so dead, im open to any suggestions.
